

Position: Adjunct Instructor of Cybersecurity

Department: Cybersecurity

The Cybersecurity program at North Greenville University is receiving applications for online adjunct faculty positions. This is an open announcement. Candidates applying for this position must hold a Masters degree, in Computer Science, Cybersecurity, or a related field. Candidates must also have industry experience in computer science, information technology, cybersecurity, or related fields. Adjunct instructors teach courses in operating systems, networks, network security, architecture, software engineering, and endpoint security. Preference will be given to those with experience teaching online at the undergraduate level. Faculty are expected to integrate their personal faith and Christian worldview into course material. NGU professors are expected to be committed Christians who are role models in their faith and ethics.

North Greenville University is a teaching university affiliated with the South Carolina Baptist Convention. Members of the NGU faculty are orthodox Christians who have a strong personal faith in Jesus Christ, are role models in their piety and ethics, maintain active membership in an evangelical congregation, and mentor students academically and spiritually. They are Christian scholars who reflect upon their discipline from the perspective of a biblical worldview and are expected to teach in accordance with, and not contrary to the university's Statement on Human Flourishing. All employees of NGU are required to abstain from illegal drugs and beverage alcohol.

Responsibilities:

- Teach cybersecurity courses as assigned.
- Be available to support students academically and spiritually.
- Participate in departmental-, college-, and university-level meetings as availability permits.
- Ensure the security of assessment tools and confidential documentation.
- Effectively utilize and monitor the learning management systems.
- Appropriately maintain student records, grades, and attendance to ensure accuracy.
- Meet all university deadlines for syllabi and grade submission.

Qualifications:

- Masters, or equivalent degree, in Computer Science, Information Technology, Cybersecurity, or a related field, from an accredited institution.
- Cybersecurity or information technology certifications are highly preferred.
- Passion for teaching and making a difference in students' lives required.
- Verifiable prior teaching experience preferred, but not required.
- Industry experience in information technology or cybersecurity required.
- Understand and comply with FERPA regulations.
- Must support NGU's mission statement and core values, commitment to a Christian lifestyle, and character in keeping with a biblical model.

Physical Requirements:

- Visual Abilities: Read reports, create presentations and use a computer system.
- Hearing: Hear well enough to communicate with co-workers, vendors, and students.
- Dexterity, grasping, feeling, writing, typing, and using the telephone, copier, and computer systems.
- Talking: Frequently convey detailed or important instructions and ideas accurately, quickly, and at a proper volume.
- Cognitive/Emotional: Ability to critically think and concentrate. Must be able to respond quickly to changes in conditions – 75-100% of the time.

Working Relationships:

This position is a part-time, online adjunct position in the Cybersecurity Program. Cybersecurity faculty first report to the Cybersecurity Program Director, who reports to the Dean of the College of Humanities and Sciences

Work Schedule:

Online adjunct faculty are expected to be available to teach their online classes and be actively present in their classes at least five days a week and assist students as needed.

NORTH GREENVILLE
UNIVERSITY
Christ Makes the Difference

Travel:

There are no travel responsibilities with this position.

This job description in no way states or implies that these are the only duties to be performed by the employee. S/he will be required to follow any other instructions and to perform any other duties as requested by his or her supervisor.

Important Information:

As part of the application, candidates must submit a cover letter, CV, and transcripts, and the contact information for two professional references, and one reference from a leader in your church. Review of candidates will continue until positions are filled.

Please address any questions about this position to Dr. Nigel Basta, nigel.basta@ngu.edu.